

Botanical beauty:Â Basilus Beslers complete Hortus Eystettensis of 1613 Â A magnificent pictorial document of the flowers grown in theÂ greatest German garden of its time, theÂ Hortus EystettensisÂ is in a class of its own when it comes toÂ the range of flowers engraved. First published in 1613, the 367 copperplate engravings byÂ Basilus BeslerÂ (1561â€“1629) capture the spectacular diversity of the palatial gardens of Prince-Bishop Johann Konrad von Gemmingen (1593/95â€“1612) in Eichstatt, Bavaria, Germany. The meticulous illustrations are organized according to the four seasons, and, following the classification system used today, show plants belonging to aÂ total of 90 families and covering 340 genera. The whole collection is regarded as one of the finest treasures of botanical literature, described by Carl Linnaeus, the legendary 18th-century botanist and zoologist, as anÂ â€œincomparable workâ€•. Beslers pictorial catalog long outlived the gardens, which were destroyed in 1634 by invading Swedish troops. In auction, theÂ asking price for a first-edition copy ofÂ Hortus EystettensisÂ is now more than half a million dollars. With this edition, TASCHEN opens up the garden to a much wider audience: A rich and beautiful record, destined to keep the gardens beauty in bloom.
