

Battered, bruised and sucker punched by Cupid's™ arrow, Julian Banks wore emotional scars of love. Fresh on the heels of a messy divorce, he travels to a New Orleans Plantation to introduce himself to a family legacy he never knew existed. There he meets Geneive; a mysterious bayou beauty, whose job is to inform him of his birthright and the history behind it. School is in session with Julian as the star pupil inside "Le Boudoir" where he ultimately learns a lesson in love at first sight, and the pursuit of lust being medicine for the soul.

Street artist Szabotage's overhaul of Le Boudoir misses the mark, which might not be so bad if the service and drinks were up to par " but only. Presided over by two large chandeliers, Le Boudoir is dark and lovely, with gilt- framed paintings scattered over classically papered walls.
