

Each fully illustrated volume of SARA Journal spotlights a province (landskap) in Sweden. Read about the history and attractions of the province, as well as the story of a family from the province who emigrated to North America. This volume features the story of a SARA member who grew up in the province. Her memories of her native villages intertwined with their history are a compelling first hand account of life in rural Dalarna. There is also an extensive research article on the farm names in Dalarna as well as the story of a family from a nearby province, researched through their family postcards from the early 1900s.
