

This book is a collection of individual stories of people from 50 to 100 years of age, from all walks of life sharing experiences and challenges in their daily lives. The people we interviewed include a 66 year old female recovering alcoholic, a palliative care nurse, and many others with diverse and interesting life stories. People want to remain engaged, and are making genuine contributions to this world in their later years. There is often an opportunity to explore facets of life that may not have been considered in earlier years. This is a very positive and enlightening book that will reveal light about the whole subject of aging.
