

In the second book of the World According to Robbie series, Robbie is given the opportunity to prove he can be responsible when his mum lets him catch the bus home from school by himself. As one can imagine, this is a very big deal for a ten year old. If he does everything right, there will be no more having to listen to mums nagging in the car on the way home, no more lists of chores to do when he gets home, and no more constant questioning about how his day went. No, from now on, Robbie will be a latch key kid and will never have to worry about that again! Only problem is ... Robbie has lost the key! Now he must find a way into the house before mum gets home or he might never be able to catch the bus again! The World According to Robbie books are a fresh and exciting series of stories based on the real life events of a fourth grade Aussie kid who's a little different because he has ADD and Asperger's. Not that he knows it yet! In fact, no one knows yet. All anyone knows is that Robbie is different. But that doesn't slow him down. Robbie thinks he's awesome! He thinks he's the coolest, smartest and bravest kid alive! The series captures the thoughts and actions of ten year old Robbie who thinks the world of himself. He does the things all the other kids are too sensible to do! He goes the extra mile to get what he wants, even if it means getting in trouble or making a fool of himself.
