

This book is a collection of works by Yuriko Arioka, a famous clothing patching teacher in Japan. The works color matching is natural and warm with bright colors. No matter where those works are placed, they are very harmonious with the environment around and can bring a lot of glory to the daily life. Her simple-style but well-looking patching works are added with patching cloth or embroidery, and her creative themes are based on her everyday life. After enjoying her works, people can not help but want to make some handmade works by themselves. In addition to a variety of wallets and small bags that enthusiasts love, the book also collects various typical and practical clothing-patching bags, wall carpets and clothing-patching works in a total of nearly 60 types that can only be created by many artists out of their long-time engagement in the patchwork art. The representative works are presented with the photo-based steps, and the rest of the works with the hand-painting teaching approaches. The materials, patching process and skills are intuitive and detailed, so the book is a good reference for clothing-patchwork enthusiasts.
